A COLORED "ROUSTABOUT" DROWNED.

—About midnight Monday night Wesley Owens, a colored "roustabout" on the steamer Andes, accidentally fell overboard and was drowned. The Andes arrived here from Cincinnati about 11 a. M. on Monday; and remained until yester day afternoon, when she returned to that port. The hands were paid off on Monday, and as usual, while in port and with nothing particular to do, several of them nothing particular to do, several of then in the evening "went on a spree.' Among the number was Owens, who re turned to the boat about mid Among the numeer was events, they can turned to the boat about midnight, in an intoxicated condition. After he had got aboard, and while passing along the outside edge of the boat, near the bow, he stumbled and fell overboard. The officers and crew of the boat, with the exception of the watch, had retired and knew nothing of the accident until next morping. Owens was seen by the watch, however, when he fell overboard, and was carried swittly down the stream by the current. He sank several times, and was last seen near the bow of the steamer Hornbrook, a few, rods below. The body has not yet been recovered. Owens was about twenty-five years of age, and unmarried, and lived at Pomeroy, Ohio. He had been employed on the Andes two or three years.

THE BENWOOD IRON WORKS.—The Bellaire Leader says: The Benwood Iron Works are fast approaching completion. They will be much nicer and better works than the old ones. The engine will be Immense. The dimensions of it are as follows: Cylinder 30 inches in diameter, 48 inch stroke, and fifted on cast iron bed plate weighing 30 tons. The fly-wheel is about 25 teet in diameter and weighs 38 tons. The nail plate rolls are driven by tons. The nail plate rolls are driven by the same shaft, instead of the old way, which was to drive the nail plate rolls by a counter shaft. It is calculated that the engine is to run about 65 revolutions per minufa which makes the dy-wheel run at about one and a half miles in the

These regular and special committees are to need at 9 o'clock this morning at the Capitol building.

The Grand Lodge was then closed, after which the members and their visitors partook of a sumptuous banquet prepared in one of the basement rooms, To-day will be devoted to committee work, and in the evening the Grand Lodge will re-assemble for the purpose of electing officers and receiving the reports of the committees. The Grand Chapter will meet at the Capitol building to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock.

will meet at the Capitol onlining to-mor-row morning at 10 o'clock.

The Grand Lodge is composed of as fine-looking a body of men as ever assem-bled in the city of Wheeling. Among them we notice many win have attained distinction at the bar, in the halls of the Legislature, as journalists, physicians, etc. To have such an intelligent body of men assemble in their midst is no doubt a pleasure to all our citizens. We trust that the present session of the Grand Lodge may prove indeed a pleasant one to the delegates.

The lovely weather of Sunday and Monday was followed by a dreary autumn rain yesterlay, which made everybody feel miserable and "anxioua for a change."

The official vote from the uncertain States will decide the now fluctuating intention of the average voter and politician to spend Thanksgiving and turkey or sackcloth and thanksgiving and turkey or sackcloth and sakes.

The minutes of the last meetings were read, and there being no objection, were approved and signed by the Mayor and Clerk.

An ordinance was submitted by Mr. Butterfield granting the Citizena' Street Bailway Company, the right to go down 43d street to the ferry landing, and to run across the pavement at the junction of Jacob and 43d streets to the ferry landacross the pavement at the junction of Jacob and 43d streets to the ferry landing; provided said Street Railway Company nocept the provisions of this ordinance within thirty days, otherwise said ordinance to be null and void. The ordinance was read a first and second time.

Mr. Brice objected to the passage of said ordinance unless the railway company gave good bonds securing the city against all damage arising to persons property from the crossing of the pavement at the intersection of Jacob and 43d street, as provided for in resolutions passed at a previous meeting.

Mr. Dunning moved that the ordinance be amended so as to incorporate the provision for requiring a bond and responsibility on the part of the company for all damages arising from suits against the city from any cause whatever on account of said grant.

Ab argument arose as to the consequence of the city requiring a bond of the railway.

. W 11. X 191 - PO 11 17 DISORDER AT THE JAIL.—About 12 o'clock Monday night the county jailor, Mr. G. W. Kennedy, was aroused from his slumbers by loud and angry words of profanity, and upon investigating the cause he found that Melissa Robinson cause he found that Melissa Robinson and three others of the same character, also Bridget Goodwin, "the lady from Ireland," were making night hideous with their blackguardiam, greatly distribing the neighbors in the vicinity. The punishment which he chose to adopt was solitary confinement for ten days, and food meanwhile to consist of bread and water.

Coorden last night instructed the gas trustees to make the proper connections with the lamp posts on the Island and in the Eighth Ward, and there is accord-ingly some prospect of the streets there being lighted with gas.
